Dubious weather conditions through out the day jeopardised the running of the event, but in the end 15 minutes before the start the rain eased and the the clouds started to part and by the end of the evening the sun was out.

First past the finish was Martin Hamilton with a time of 24.47, he had been up since 2am and so he headed straight off home to bed. His time sat on the top of the leader board and try as they might all of the other club riders could not topple him from the top spot. Sweet Dreams for Martin.

Robert Swannack and Alistair shed were the only riders to get close to Martin, and with only 3 second separating them, they were also very close to each other.

The fourth rider was Chris Palfreeman, he produced an excellent ride to beat his previous best on the course by 1.35. Also his younger brother Ed pushed himself hard on his first ride over the distance and managed a very good time.

George Fox and James Jeffs were also first timers on the course who posted very good times.

The fastest ride on the night was from Kevin Hardwick with the second fastest time ever on this course. Ben Bailey also made quite an improvement over his first ride on the course.

Next weeks course will still have the headquarters in the Chelveston village hall but the start and finish will be slightly closer, near the roundabout joining the A6 to the B645. The race starts at 6.45pm and the hall opens at 6pm for signing on. See you next week.
